Architectural and High-Performance Louvers, Grilles, Screens, Sun Controls

The look that works.™

Fulfilling visions. Getting it right.

Reputation. For 90 years, Airlite® has been a trusted name for architects, builders and building owners – an innovative leader in Architectural Louvers, Grilles, Screens and Sun Controls. Today, we are committed to fulfilling your total project vision by providing the most reliable, high performance products – paired with aesthetic excellence.

Design & Engineering. All Airlite products are crafted to your unique design and custom requirements, whether based on existing product platforms or new product development. Our state-of-the-art test facilities position Airlite as an industry leader in developing products that excel in performance under new and emerging test procedures and code requirements. Bottom line: you get “The look that works.”

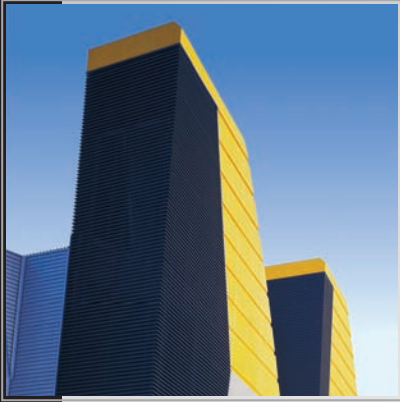

Manufacturing. Windload, dynamic vibration and stress corrosion are critical factors in the selection, specification, fabrication and joining of materials. Airlite’s all-welded products ensure product performance and integrity in severe environments. Finish coatings, in standard and custom colors, are applied after the product is assembled at one of our three manufacturing facilities in Schofield, WI; Frankfort, KY; and Sacramento, CA.

Delivery. When crews and equipment are on-site and erection schedules are tight, on-time material delivery is crucial. Airlite adheres to demanding production schedules and coordinates closely with project managers to meet your delivery need. Further, our Qwik Ship program offers a wide range of available standard configurations and accessories for accelerated delivery.

Louvers

With numerous standard louver types available in a dozen product categories and limitless custom capabilities, Airolite can provide the right louvers to achieve a masterful balance between form and function for your project. From Acoustic to Sightproof and Combination to Storm Class, Airolite has “The look that works.”

Storm Class™ Louvers

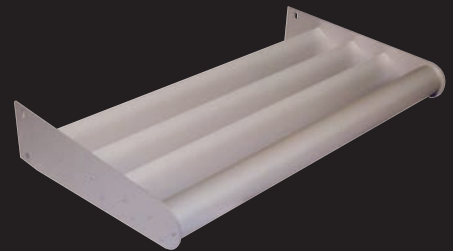

Mother Nature packs a heavy punch with wind-driven rain and other severe conditions. Airolite’s Storm Class louvers stand up to the storm with AMCA Licensed performance ratings determined under rigorous 50 mph wind and 8-inch/hour rainfall conditions. Available in 2-, 4-, 5-, 6-, 7- and 8-inch blade depths.

Sun Controls

Green buildings, Smart buildings... whatever you call them, Airolite can intelligently marry aesthetics with energy efficiency. Our custom-designed sun controls filter up to 80% of the sun’s heat and glare, significantly reducing energy costs. You choose the fascia, blades, outriggers, and mounting options.

Grilles & Screens

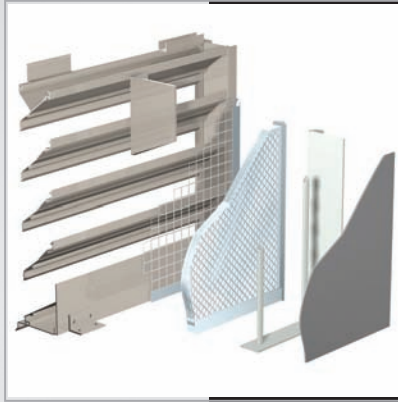

Serving as architectural accents, sight barriers and even entire facades, Airolite grilles and screens are found in a myriad of applications. Custom manufactured to your design and specifications, Airolite offers you a choice of material thickness, depth, geometric pattern, angle, spacing and color.
